

..if you go to a psychiatrist, he will see you for just a few minutes and give you a prescription. Nemoto wanted to help.. so he created a suicide Web site: "For those who do not want to die."

..a reply would arrive within minutes, and he would reply to the reply..

He answered all phone calls, day or night..
What would come through over hours of talking
was an inarticulate, urgent, and bottomless anxiety that seeped into him and didn't go away.
